I am little too young for business at Coffee County citizens who think they can't do anything about it. I live in Dothan, Montgomery, Birmingham or even Atlanta. You have heard all my arguments against this practice. Rather than try to stop the practice, I urge you as one individual to try to buy locally before you run to the big city shopping.

I was glad to hear that President Nixon said we should veto the federal tax-cut bill things such as presidential campaign finance portion were not removed. I had already resolved not to earmark any of my income tax payment for any campaign contributions. The lawmakers who voted for the bill are not from our state and will try to pass some kind of tax relief bill that will benefit all taxpayers. It won't be as good as we want it to be, but it will be better than last year. We are back to the old politics of political parties... if we started giving to one party, soon the legislature (or Supreme Court) will be dishes our millions to little groups of people all over the nation who call themselves a "political party" including the Communists.

PIE IN THE SKY

OUR ENVIRONMENT

The time has come for the nation to consider "economic reality" in dealing with environmental problems. The proposed law, House Bill 10, which would ban zero pollution, which was passed overwhelmingly by the Senate, should be rejected by the House. The proposed law calls for a flat ban on discharges into rivers and lakes whether or not they actually degrade the receiving waters. This is neither logical nor practical.

This is a little late - but... Reading about the massive robbery that occurred recently in the state capital during a special session of the state legislature, I wonder who was in the classroom. Funny, but, I agreed with the teachers on their project but can't help but wonder why the taxpayers are paying for it. I am sure there are large numbers who did recently. I just hope maybe some of them didn't get paid for that day of "work."

SMOKING AMONG TEENAGERS

By Gordon M. Meade, M.D.
Medical Director
National Tuberculosis and Respiratory Disease Association

Q. Are teenagers smoking more... than ever before?

A. More. About 40 percent of teenagers are smoking today than two years ago. The percentage of teenagers in the 18-year-old group is 43 percent for boys, 28 for girls. The percentage of non-smokers is greater at the younger ages. 13, 14, and 15-year-olds are the odds, smoking has doubled.

Q. Is smoking as hazardous for young people as for adults who smoke?

A. Even regular smoking among teenagers seems to be equally hazardous.

Q. Is there any way to reverse the smoking trend among teenagers?

A. Getting teenagers involved under their own steam—in school activities is one way. TB-RD associations, which are sponsored by the American Lung Association, have sponsored antismoking campaigns among teenagers. Getting teenagers involved in "Mod Squads" of teenagers who visit the elementary schools and talk to children about smoking are also effective. In special programs developed for young people also set up their own experiments and show exactly how smoking affects the lungs, heart, and nervous system.

Q. Is the reduction of smokers and the establishment one of the reasons why young people are rebelling?

A. Most teenagers who smoke say they know it's bad, but they still smoke because their friends do, to be with it. Some say they are rebelling against parental values, but the statistics indicate quite the opposite. The highest rates of smoking among teenagers occurs in families where one or both parents smoke.

Q. What can parents do to encourage their teenagers not to smoke?

A. You can become nonsmokers. The parental example is the most powerful. Equally clear, many authorities do not think it is a good idea to force teenagers to quit smoking. It is much easier to encourage teenagers to stop than to reverse the smoking trend among teenagers.

$3 BILLION CRIME

Law and order has been a popular issue. But so far, the trend seems to be bent toward less law and less order. In at least one area, however, the trend is forcing a reversal of the trend.

The nation's retailers are facing tough competition in the act. They are no longer letting teen-age shoplifters off with a lecture and a warning. They are turning them over to the appropriate store management or becoming convinced of the proper action to take with your shoplifters and their parents is through the police and the courts. The old excuse, "It was just a foolish or innocent mistake" will not do. A shoplifting offense is very likely to lead to a police record requiring explanation, causing embarrassment. Certain jobs are forever closed to anyone who seems to have a record.

It is now estimated that $3 billion in goods are stolen each shopping day. That totals nearly $3 billion a year, a grain of sand compared to what can be spent on security devices by all consumers. In these inflationary times, the honest consumer will be grateful for new measures of law and order dealing with shoplifting. Retailers employing top security teams, former policemen, FBI agents, plainclothesmen, cameras, TV monitors and other scientific detection devices promise to shorten the careers of those who have made the petty thievery of shoplifting a major national problem.

A FREE SPIRIT!

A short associated press dispatch from Spearfish, South Dakota, presents a refreshing departure from the usual stories of crime and punishment. The dispatch reports the retirement of an 82-year-old, crop - dusting pilot.

At the office of the Federal Aviation Administration, the 82-year-old pilot of 32 years of commercial flying, the 82-year-old aviator, commenting on his retirement, said, "I've got a few more crop dusting jobs to do, but I like it like I like it." One reason he has decided to quit flying is that he has known "fights like the dickens" and finds it difficult to use the rudder pedals that are necessary to crop spraying with his single engine plane.

Measured by current standards, this old gentleman of the aviation fraternity should, long ago, have been collecting his gold and silver awards from a beneficent government. His kind, however, never quite fits the rules of a system that places more and more emphasis on the illusory goals of safety and security. You see, he enjoys living, while the primary concern of the welfare state is existing.

Miss Sereen Grayson of Elba gives Miss Elizabeth Sanders a new hair style. Both are students in the Cosmetology Department at MacArthur Technical Institute, Opp, Alabama.

Sorrow Of Thanksgiving

The Sorrow Of Thanksgiving

On Thanksgiving Day, we all join together, aunts and uncles, nieces and nephews, moma and dad's and brothers and sisters.

We sit down to our table with food piled high.

We eat, we talk, we laugh.

But do we ever stop to think of all those dying of starvation on this day?

Do we ever think that they can laugh in merriment, or do they cry in sorrow.

What is there to be thankful for except for just being alive.

For there is so much sorrow in the land.

We have seen the Auburn-Alabama football match-up and we have seen the best team we saw. The Alabamans win a well deserved Heisman Trophy and we watched Johnny Musso run over the Eagle's Saverdins as it has never been done before. The Italian Stallion or Super Moose, whichever you prefer is undoubtedly the best running back in the country. Yes, that's right, Mr. Troy, Cornell's very talented and very cocky superstar, now looking forward to the National Football game in Miami's Orange Bowl and Auburn's Sugar Bowl berth against Oklahoma, let us turn our attention elsewhere.

Elba's basketball team opens its season tonight (Thursday) in Opp, then returns home Friday against Geneva. Coach Doug Carmichael, if you don't know him, is a field clothing basketball outfit. This year should be no exception. We will see the full-court press defense used often and a fast break offense will be employed at times.

Ronald Smith, playing golf with W.C. Howell at Elba Country Club recently, reached a very important milestone. No, it wasn't a hole-in-one, but a round which matched "Old Man Park." His nine hole score of 36 was equaled by a short-sighted "Rod," who holds a driver as if it were a toothpick can be tough when he gets it going. Indeed, his partner, Mr. Howell, still hits the ball straight and true. And would you believe from the port year?

Saturday

This Saturday is designated as Band Day in Elba. During the afternoon (beginning at 2 p.m.) the Elba band will perform downtown and then move to the Little League ball field where they again will perform.

Also this will be the collection point for donations to the band. The public is asked to contribute to the band's drive for money to finance their trip to Atlanta after Christmas.

A telephone has been set up by the General Telephone to handle all calls from people wishing to have donations picked up.

There will also be a live feed to broadcast on WELB during this time and a huge board will be posted to list the contributions as they come in.

The public is urged to come out and hear the award-winning Elba band. This is just one of the many methods being used to collect needed funds. The hand is holding rummage sales, sweepstakes, selling cakes, selling Elba Clipper subscriptions and a raffle. The band will work hard to raise $7,000 for the four day trip to the Peach Bowl Marching Contest and Peach Bowl halftime game.

DORSEY MAKING $2 MILLION OF CONTAINERS

Dorsey Trailers of Elba is about midway in a large order of containers for Union Carbide. The containers will be used to ship dry raw materials produced by the company. They are all aluminum, all welded containers and must be perfectly smooth on the inside (including the ends).

The containers are 8 X 8 X 30 in size and have a manhole size opening in the top and two small holes in the bottom (about eight inches in diameter).

Each container is inspected by company inspectors and also by the Union Carbide Senior Quality Control Inspector, Gordon Whiting.

George Gridler is directing the project for Dorsey Trailers.

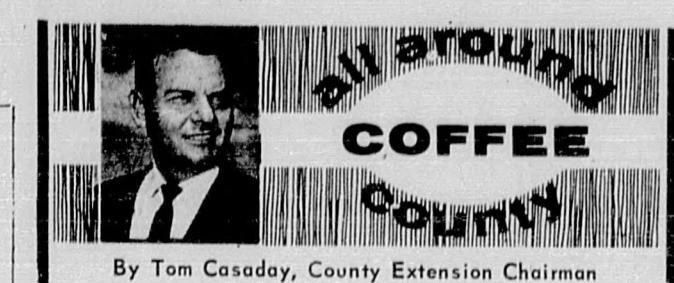

Since the original contract was signed, Union Carbide has increased the order and indicated they may need even more of the high quality containers. It is a credit to a local industry to be entrusted with this large high quality production job, apparently, the first time any project of this type has been attempted.

PESTICIDE EDUCATION

Wednesday afternoon a group of agricultural leaders along with Extension agent J. R. Speed and I attended a pest control education meeting in Troy. Big changes are taking place in the use and use of pesticides.

Beginning January 1, farmers using pesticides will need a permit. Delegates from Coffee County have been selected and will attend. I do not have a list of the delegates but I am sure most of them will be from the Wiesen Substation; Anna Yell (yellow seedling apple); and Wiregrass.

Many other varieties should be offered on Malling Merton 106 rootstock. These rootstock dwarf trees by 40%. The source for these varieties on this particular rootstock is the Auburn Nursery at Auburn, Alabama.

BEEF PRICES

I talked to Dr. Dennis Herd, one of our beef cattle specialists at Auburn. Herd pointed out that cow and calf operators in Coffee County and adjoining counties ought to get a little more for their calves than usual, he said that the feed lot operators are bidding for feeder type steers and that this could help the price.

Most folks have heard about the feed lot operation of Mr. Bryan is setting up in Elba. Most of the folks feeding cattle in Coffee County are feeding out those that are being raised on their farms.

Consumers Want to Know

Is there any advantage to longer-life bulbs if you get less life?

That's why the information is printed on the sleeve—For reading, studying, working—the brightness of a bulb is more important than its life. To get the most lumens for the money, look for a "long-life" bulb.

It's also important to consider the bulb's rating, for example, in a chest or star, well, in the attic or where a globe may have to be removed. In such cases, it may be more desirable to settle for less brightness and choose a bulb that will last longer.

Elba took the Troy kick off and drove downfield to the 10 yard line where a Joe Prior pass to Bill Scarborough added six more points for Elba. Again Joey Daniels added the extra point and the score was 24-13 Elba.

Elba Tigers Defeat Troy By 24 - 20 Score

Saturday

The Elba Tigers came back strong after their defeat October 29 at the hands of the Troy Trojans. They defeated the strong Troy Trojans by the score of 24 to 20.

It was not the same team that faced on the field November 5th to whom Troy soundly. A week earlier an Andalusia writer noted the Elba team did not have the roaring enthusiasm shown by the team played by a Leon Akins coached team. The night of the Troy game, however, the team made up for the previous week and the Andalusia writer from the time Elba won the toss of the coin and chose to receive the kick-off.

Elba drove downfield on passes from quarterback Wayne Flowers to Jimmy Bailey. When the Tigers got into scoring range, Troy closed in and a PAT by Daniels put Elba ahead 14 to 6. There were 2 minutes 26 seconds left in the first half.

In the second quarter, on the first possession, on the PAT, Joey Daniels kicked a field goal making the score 17-6 in favor of Elba as the half ended.

In the second half, Troy came out swinging. The Tigers held forcing Troy to punt. They recovered an Elba fumble and immediately drove in for a TD. This time the PAT was good and the score was 17-13.

Elba took the Troy kick and drove relentlessly downfield to the one yard line when Joe Daniels was tackled by Bill Scarborough added six more points for Elba. Again Joey Daniels added the PAT and the score was 24-13.

The third quarter ended with Troy on the one foot line. On the second play of the last quarter, the Troy quarterback ran the line for another Troy score and the score stood at 24-20 in favor of Elba.

Troy recovered an Elba fumble on the Troy 41 yard line. This time, Troy got the 15 yard penalty for the coach being on the field without authorization from the officials.

Bill Scarborough, got a Troy fumble near midfield and the Tigers were in action again. Elba was soon called for delay of the game as the Tigers attempted to run out the clock and end the game. The Troy team went to the air in an effort to score in the last seconds and the pass was intercepted by Troy. Following another 15 yard penalty, Elba was in control near midfield. The Tigers snapped the ball and Quedius Powers fell down with the ball to the ground. The final score was 24-20.

The second quarter opened with Elba driving down their own 40 yard line. They failed to score on this drive but a Bama fumble ended the Troy 1 yard line. Troy moved it to the eight before kicking to Elba. Elba
